

Courses / activities

Off season there are language- and paintingcourses, yoga retreats and cooking workshops. And you can help with pruning and harvesting.

How do you get to us?

We drive with our own car in one day from Amsterdam to Barchi ( $\pm 1500$  km), but you take as long as you want naturally.

It will be faster however to go by plane to Rome, Milan, Pescara, Bologna, Forli, Ancona or Rimini. You can rent a car or take the train further and we will get you from the station. Another possibility is to go with the car-train.

Making a wish to become reality

Our fondest wish was to create a charming place in an extraordinary environment where we could pamper our guests. We thoroughly enjoy it when our guests have a wonderful time and we see that within one or two weeks they leave for home rested and full of new energy. For us the inspiration and affirmation to start our enterprise: 'Fra le braccia di Morfeo s.r.l.'

We are open from Easter until November.

Peace, space and quiet, clean air and culture,
relaxed on tour, or just doing nothing.

Le Marche

Nature and landscape

The Marche is known for its untouched undulating hills, sandy beaches and many traditional old medieval towns and villages. The coastline of Le Marche is 180 km and very varied, with pebble and sandy beaches and high cliffs. Located within Le Marche, in the Appenines, are two national parks - the Monte Sibillini and the Gran Sasso. In addition there are several nature-reserves and forest areas, which along with many of nature's other wonders you'll encounter, are home to the wild horses that roam the countryside.

Culture and history

Le Marche is a region rich in culture. Montesoffio is encircled by numerous extraordinary medieval towns and close to beautiful old coastal cities like Fano and Senigallia and the cities of Urbino and Jesi. The nearest towns are Barchi (3 km), Orciano (6 km), Mondavio (7 km) and Fossombrone (12 km). They offer a variety of cafes, quaint narrow streets, picturesque shops, and well-stocked (super)markets. You'll also find many good restaurants located in the area and festivals in the surrounding towns. All just around the corner!

Opera's and medieval festivals
Especially in the summer months there are many medieval and music festivals. Like the famous opera festivals of Pesaro (Rossini) and Macerata, or the (modern) music festivals of Fano and Perugia (Jazz). Also not to be missed are the many local food (sagre) and wine festivals, with truffles, olive oil and wine.

Out and about

Swimming in the sea at 23 km from our house or in our own swimmingpool. Directly from Montesoffio you can go hiking, or mountainbiking. In the area you can ride horses and in the winter you can even go skiing. Playing golf is also popular in Le Marche; there are some golf courses not far away.
